Histeria Kolektiboa

sobre esta publicación,

En el supuesto de que los acontecimientos hubiera tomado otros caminos, esta sería la primera de varias publicaciones que hubieran acompañado los procesos de creación de las artistas en residencia durante el año 2019 en el espacio de La Karpinteria.

El plan inicial consistía en realizar una publicación por residencia en la que un acompañamiento cercano, instigador y sutil, suscitara una serie de ejercicios o materiales textuales, que en negociación con las artistas e investigadoras (Luciana Chieregati, Diana Franco, Colectivo Haria, Ainhoa Hernández y Andrea Rodrigo, larose + Mónica Lacerda, Iki Yos Piña, María Ptqk, Duen Sacchi, Magda de Santo, Liben Svaart, Marta Valverde) acabara en una publicación impresa de parte de sus procesos de creación de cada una.

El deseo de que la textualidad florezca a la orilla del camino, era la inquietante y pertinente pregunta que nos estábamos haciendo estos últimos meses, desde el contexto transfeminista, queer y varias disidencias afines más en Bilbao. ¿Cómo... de qué manera materializar un registro de pensamientos que plantaría sus semillas en estas páginas, para quién sabe cuándo, ver florecer mucho después?

De esta manera, queríamos apostar por la latencia, por la semilla; por el brote y la flor venideras...

En estas letras "verde extraño" presentamos algunos de los materiales textuales, visuales y digitales que acompañaron el paso de Liben Svaart, última artista residente del 2019 por La Karpinteria.

En el proyecto ms&mr svaart, Liben da forma a un disco musical, donde nos propone su propia construcción de género desde lo digital, experimentando variaciones tonales en su propia voz, para dialogar con su desconocido otro yo. A este proceso musical e identitario, le acompaña la escritura de las canciones –siempre en inglés– que reflexionan sobre la pluralidad del artículo "they".

Esta publicación se despliegua como una suerte de cancionero, que cohabita con otros experimentos textuales durante la residencia, como las notas al pie de móvil, en que los pensamientos inmediatos de Liben, son enviados y almacenados en mi whatsapp, a modo de registro de pequeñas cotidianidades dentro de su residencia. Todo esto, entre otros experimentos digitovisuales.

Acaba de salir una araña de dentro de la guitarra. En diez años es la primera vez que lo veo, o que me pasa eso. Igual las arañas de la karpinteria quieren ser guitarristas... Aunque bueno, con ocho patas, tendría algo más de ambición e intentería tocar instrumentos más difíciles...

They They Liben Svaart

Hoy puedo decir que tengo una canción terminada así que...

Habemus disco!

They blame themselves though they'd blame others.

(They take the blame.)

They tap their fingers on the table.

(They wish you would listen.)

They measure their words.

(They expect you not to judge them.)

They walk alone at night, watching their backs.

(They hold their keys tightly.)

They criticise the clothes on the stores.

(They know it's not a matter of clothes.)

They realise it's not a matter of clothes.

(They knew all along.)

They draft a way to tell others.

(They can't find the words.)

They continue going to the places they are not used to.

(They think that the waitress is cute.)

They find new efforts inside a cup of coffee.

(They fought to get out of the bed this morning.)

They burst into the city and play hide and seek.

(They never liked their reflections on the glasses.)

They fall in sync with the time ticking.

(They never wore a watch.)

They interview strangers before they decide who to trust.

(They've been hurt before.)

They clear their clogged minds just like everybody does.

(They even do laundry on Sundays.)

They remark the marks and shout.

(They know the limits.)

They pay their rent.

(They wish they had more money.)

They peer over their shoulder.

(They peer over your shoulder.)

They convince themselves before they can convince others.

(They wish you would listen.)

They drain the energy from the sun over the night.

(They are the moon in the morning.)

They affect the way they are affected.

(They are affected by how you affect them.)

They fit in.

(They try.)

They murmur words that were never heard.

(They were killed when they shouted.)

Trabajar con Mr Svaart me parece como trabajar con Beyoncé. Es mejor que él lo cante una vez y luego yo me pase un rato editándolo, que hacerle cantar muchas veces. Ms Svaart se adapta a la primera toma que hace Mr Svaart y se intenta amoldar
